

Connor Downs Treasure Boxes

We have carefully collated a selection of books for each year group. These combine both contemporary authors and a wide range of genres including picture books. We have also worked to ensure each box includes books with diverse characters, from different parts of the world and about issues that can be explored in an accessible way. Each class also reads a book by Michael Morpurgo or a story set in our local environment of Cornwall. These books will be used in class for engagement and enjoyment, or will be studied in reading and writing lessons.
